Join the award-winning British Police Symphony Orchestra for our Proms Night Spectacular! — Back on the Beat in Birmingham. Fanfares will herald the long-awaited return of the BPSO to this iconic concert hall, bringing an evening of music to suit every taste.

BPSO is thrilled to be able to perform live for you after such a lengthy absence and after such difficult times worldwide during the pandemic.

Under the baton of Musical Director, Dr Richard Jenkinson, BPSO offers you the power of the theme from A Space Odyssey 2001 (also Sprach Zarathustra); the poignancy of You Raise Me Up; and sing-along hits from The Sound of Music.

From John Williams', Harry Potter Suite; and Hymn to the Fallen; to Stanley Black's, Themes from James Bond, there truly is something for everyone.

Uniting the police service with the magic of music to engage, excite and enlighten communities in the UK and beyond, the BPSO is a unique force of volunteers, drawn from across the United Kingdom. BPSO's musicians are either serving or retired Police Officers, Police Staff or other members of the extended Police Family.

It is with great pride that our compere, serving officer, PC Danny Mizon, will guide us through these all-time favourites to the conclusion of the evening with our spectacular Proms Night finale, including Rule Britannia, Land of Hope & Glory, British Sea Songs and Jerusalem and flagship firework display.

Bring your singing voices, your flags and streamers and join us as we celebrate being Back on the Beat in Birmingham!
